Lessons would be even better if ...

- Less calling out
- Make better use of the computers to support the work
- Less fidgeting in class and everyone paying attention
- More working white board pens needed
- Support children who are not understanding in small groups using physical objects (maths lesson on fractions).
- Everyone was doing good listening and concentrating not just a few
- Teacher could ask children to stand up and write on the whiteboard when they are explaining
- Have more challenging option for some who'd like to try (ie; using 4 digit numbers)
- Children could have learnt a song to reinforce their learning
